The Force Library.

A VALUABLE HISTORICAL COLLECTION.

The librarian of Congress, Mr. A. R. Spofford, has just made a special report to the Joint Committee on the Library, recommending the purchase of the large historical cellection belonging chase of the large historical collection belonging to Mr. Peter Force, of Washington. It will be re-membered that the Historical Society of this city. in 1865, made Mr. Force a conditional offer of $100, in 1865, made air. Force a continuous contin "that it be kept together in some permanent and fire-proof public repository." He now offers it to the Government at the same price, and Mr. Spofford warmly recommends the necessary appropria-

The library contains 22,529 volumes, and about 37,500 pamphlets. By far the greater part of these bear upon the history of this country. Mr. Force made the collection with special reference to a projected work, the Documentary History of the United States. His manuscript materials for that work would make three hundred and sixty folio volumes of manuscript, and are thoroughly analyzed and classified by States. Many of the original documents. of which these are copies, have been destroy. by fire.

Mr. Force has also brought together the largest collection of books relating to America in the world. It embraces the narratives of the early expense.

In the department of early printed American newspapers, there are unusually complete files of the leading journals of Massachusetts, New York, Pennsylvania, Virginia, and other States, dating from 1735 to 1800, and covering with much fullness the period of the Stamp Act controversy, the revolutionary war, and the establishment of the present Constitution.

is very full and rich. In the library of Congress there are now not quite 6000 pamphlets. Mr. Force has collected nearly 40,000. 8100 were printed before 1800. As Mr. Force was so fortunate as to secore, many years since, five great and unbroken collections, formed by leading politicians of different parties, who arranged and bound up for convenient reference all the pamphlet literature of their time, the collection is not only unmatched, but at this day unmatched to a complete size of their time. out, at this day, unmatchable for completeness. but, at this day, unmatchable for completeness.

The library also possesses forty-eight folio volumes of satographs, many of them letters written during the revolution; orderly books of the same period; autograph journals of Washington, Greene, Arthur Lee and others; and an unpublished manuscript of Las Casas. There are 429 of these manuscript volumes. The collection of maps is unique and very valuable. There are also a large number of works printed in the infancy of the art.

The Negro and the Ballet.

In a very sensible article on the future of the ne-

Emancipation found them all paupers, and bad harvests keep them so. While the present condi-tion and immediate future of the reedmen are thus harvests keep them so. While the present condition and immediate future of the freedmen are thus gloomy, there is no much to oncourage them in the more distant prospect. Their noisiest friends who cry for the ballot, do not seem to have reflected thoughtfully on their condition. Ballots in the hands of the negroes might make quite an addition to the numerical strength of the Republican party; but ballots will do little for the negroes in the competition for employment and struggle for social consequence on which they must enter. The relation of labor to capital is looming up into prominence as the chief problem of the age, but nobody expects its solution through any political movement. The trades-unions which have grown up within the last few years, and have spread their ramifications throughout the free States, do not aim to influence elections. They are a confession of the inefficacy of the ballot to accomplish the reforms sought by the laboring classes. Ballots are mere instruments for the enactment of laws; but no law can be passed regulating the wages of labor, which is the topic of chief interest to the laboring classes. The trades-unions are associations to keep up the price of labor, and it needs but a slight examination into their methods to show that the negroes are likely to be excluded from their beach's. These associations are composed of skilled arti-These associations are composed of skilled arti-sans, and their tendency is to condemn all who do not belong to them to the lowest rank of coarse oyments. If through the enclusiveness of se-unions and similar modern organizations. trades-unions and the the negroes are prevented from exercising the most respectable and lucrative trades, they will thereby be condemned to perpetual poverty and degradation. The pressure of this ban will indegradation. The pressure of anis bar with arrease as the country becomes more populous, and the competition for employment keener. The negroes are therefore likely, as a class, to remain permanently in the condition of hired farm laborers. Being, like all people of a tropical origin, constitutionally indolent, they will be less and less decirate a laborary in proportion as the more endesired as laborers in proportion as the more energetic white population becomes dense; and whon they are felt by the latter to be in the way, the existing repugnance to their race will naturally

The Chinese in California. A grand dinner was given in San Francisco, on the evening of December 31, to celebrate the inauguration of the new direct steamship line between that city and China. The following is the twelfth regular toast, and "Func Tane's" re-

"The Chinese Merchants of San Francisco—Our skillful competitors in trade; our generous rivals in good works. May the Flowery Kingdom yet produce a China Aster." FUNG TANG'S BEPLY.

"GENTLEMEN: On behalf of the Chinese merchants and citizens present I desire to thank you for the invitations we have received to be present on this coordinate. We consider the constant of the coordinate that the coordinate th on this occasion. We consider the opening up of a great steam line between California and China and Japan a very important event. We hope it may prove to be of very great benefit to America as well as to China. We of China are very fond of trade and commerce; so are the Americans, and we hope both countries may profit by it. There are sixty thousand Chinese on the Pacific coast enare sirty thousand Chinese on the Pacific coast engaged in all kinds of business, many in mining and many engaged in trade and commerce. I came to California ten years ago, and have been engaged as a merchant all that time. I learned to road and write English with the Rev. Mr. Speer, formerly missionary in China and this city (applause), for whom I have great respect. In my business I have a good many acquaintances among the first merchants and business men of San Francisco. They have always treated the Chinese merchants with great kindness, and I hope the intercourse has been as agreeable to the Americans as it has been been as agreeable to the Americans as it has been to the Chinese merchants. We believe that the new steamship line to China and Japan, well estab-lished, and the Paciac Railroad completed, San Francisco must become one of the greatest cities of the world. (Applause.) The great part of the trade of China with the East ought to come by Sim Francisco. The population of China and Japan is very large, and those countries produce a great many things which Europe and America desire, and America produces many things which are needed in China and Japan. We hope that friendship and peace may prevail between America and China for all future time."

A FRENCH AMAZON.—The Baroness Binet de Marognet, widow of General Marcognet, died recently in France. She was the daughter of a Captain Le Mormies who fell mortally wounded in one of the battles. The first Empire, and, in dying, besought his intimate friend and comrade, Marcognet, then his superior officer, to take charge of his daughter. He accepted the trust. When she attained her twentieth year he sent for her, and from that time she shared the fatigues and the dangers of her protector until the disbanding of the army of the Loire. The better to perform this labor of love she assumed the dress of an aid-decamp. At the battle of Waterloo she hastily jumped into a wagon of the General's, where her mother happened to be; saved her by presenting mother happened to be; saved her by presenting the fact of the distance of old such that the officer o mother happened to be; saved her by presenting one of the pistols she carried at the officer of ordnance, and threatening to blow out his brains if he persisted in his traitorous intention of leading them to the enemy under the pretext of a false order of the general. in 1838 Mdlle, Julie le Mornier became the wife of the Baron de Marcognet, Augasta Market. Augusta Market.

Augusta, February 5.—Fin inclai and Commercial
—The general trade of the city improving. Our merchants generally have commenced receiving their spring stocks of dry goods, &c., and the opening of the rivers at the West has added considerably to our supply of becon, lard, flour, &c. The decline in cotton has, in a great measure, suspended sales, and there is but little money seeking investments.

GOLD AND SILVER—The improvement at the North has caused an advance here. Brokers buying to-day at 136½, and selling at 137½a138. Silver is also improving. Brokers buy at 130, and sell at 132.

EXCHANGE—Bocoming more abundant. Bank checks freely at new conditions with the conditions of the conditions. freely at par; out-door rates %a% off. No time exchange offering.

COTTON—The general character of our market for the past week has been quiet but firm, and such small lots only sold as the necessities of parties force off. Both receipts and seles are very light, the former being 1659 bales, and the latter 1513 bales, with stock on hand of 17,968 bales.

The advicet from Liverpool and New York, both showing declines with a drooping tendency, has had the effect of buyers demanding further concessions, and if sales were forced to any great extent, buyers would have a decided advantage; but the very little offering will very much break the force. Our information from all sections, South and West, is that full three-quarters to seven-eighths of the crop is in the ports or in sight, and as we know it to be so in that portion of Georgia and South Carolina tributary to this market, and believing the wants of planters throughout the South are the same, think the information we have is reliable and give it full credit.

The market is quiet and quotations are nominal, say Middling 30: Strict Middling 30/5a31; Good Middling 31/5a32. New Orleans Market. NEW ORLEANS, February 1 .- Corron-The market NEW ORLEANS, February 1.—COTTON—The market opened this morning subject to the same influence that pevalled yesterday, to which may be superadded dark and unfavorable weather, and notwithstanding the assortment was fair, and factors were manifestly disposed to sell, yet the majority of buyers, in view of the heavy increase in receipts, as well as the marked depression prevailing at New York, showed no desire whatever to operate. Under these circumstances the sales were exceedingly light, comprising at the close barely 2300 bales, taken by eleven brokers at prices indicating a loss of fully 1/2c per lb, the market closing with a strong tendency to further weakness.

SUGAE AND MOLASSES.—The reoripts since yesterday comprise 349 hhds sugar, and 305 bbls molasses, which, with about half of yesterday's receipts, comprised the offerings in first hands this morning. We have to note a dull and drooping market for sugar, though without any quotable decline in prices, while the demand for molasses quotable decline in prices, while the demand for molasses has slackened, and prices are lower. The sales yesterday and to-day, not previously reported, embrace 300 hhds sugar and 400 bbls molasses, at prices ruling within the range of the following rates: Sugar, inferior, 9c per lb; fair 12½c; fully fair 13½a13½c; prime 13½c; choice 14½c; seconds 18c; yellow clarified 13½a14c; white 15c. CARD.

It is with feelings of pride as American manufacturers that we publish the following testimonials, which have een received by us recently:

EUROPEAN TESTIMONIALE,

Received during the month of August, 1866. Messus. Ohiokening the month of August, 1886.

Losdon, July 25, 1887.

Messus. Ohiokening & Sons—Gents: I have much pleasure in enclosing a decument signed by the first composers, musicians and professors in Europe. I held your Pianos in such high estimation (wide my certificate) that I felt it my duty to take one of them with me to Europe, to ascortain the opinion of my professional brethren. The enclosed certificate will prove how unanimous they have been on the subject. I beg to forward, at the same time, a letter I received from my friend, Mr. Collard, which I am sure must be gratifying to you. ing to you.

I have the honor to be, gentlemen, yours very truly
JAMES M. WEHLL.

LONDON, January 14, 1866. James M. Weldi, Etg.:

My Dear Sin: I have great pleasure in asking youto convey to Mesers. Chickering the expression of my highest approval of their instrument. It is, I consider, not morely the best instrument of American manufacture that I have tried, but one of the fixest Grand Pianofortes that has ever come under my observation; and the Mesers. Chickering may well be proud of having turned out from their manufactory an instrument which, for touch, quality, power and workmanship, it would be very difficult to surpass in any part of the wide world.

Dear sir, very sincerely yours,

Dear sir, very sincerely yours, CHAS. D. COLLARD, Firm of Collard & Collard, Plano-forte Manufacturers, Londow, August 22, 1866.

James M. Wehli, Esq.:

My Dras Sm: As you are going back to the United States, I must beg you to remember me kindly to the Mesars. Chickering. Tell them I was delighted with their Grand Plano-forte—as good an instrument, I bink, as was ever turned out, both in touch and ter.

Wishing you, &c., I remain ever ti Ily,

H. F. BROADWOOD, Firm of L. Broadwood & Sons, Piano-forte Me

LONDON, July 20, 1866. Messrs. Chickering & Sons:

GENTS: I have just been invited by Messrs. Collard to try a Grand Piano-forte manufactured by you, and I have no hesitation in endorsing the opinion of my old friend, Mr. C. D. Collard, viz: That it is the finest innd, Mr. C. D. County, variant I ever played on.

Believe me, gentlemen, most faithfully yours,
J. L. HATTON.

Testimonials from the most distinguished Artists in Burope to Mestra. Chickering & Sons:

LONDON, July 25, 1866. Having played upon a Plano-forte made by Mesars, Ghichering & Bons, of Boston and New York, I have much pleasure in testifying to its general excellence. For sweetness and brilliancy of tone, delicacy of FOR SWEETHERS AND DETAILS OF COLORS LEARNING TO SHEET IN THE PREST I HAVE REEN OF AMERICAN MANUFACTURE.

Among the chiefpoints of excellence of the Chickering Pianos, of which speak the renowned artists in their congratulatory testimentals to the Measus. Chickering, are the greatest possible depth, richness and volume of tone, combined with a rare brilliancy, clearness and perfect evenness throughout the entire scale; and, above all, a surprising duration of sound, the pure and symiathetic quality of which never changes under the most delicate or powerful touch.

During the past forty-three years this firm has manuscetted.

GOTTSOHALK.

I consider Chickering & Sons' Planos superior to any In the world.

They are unrivalled for their singing qualities and for the harmonious roundness of their tone. There is a perfect homogeneity throughout all the registers. The upper notes are remarkable for a clearness and purity which I do not find in any other instrument, while the base is distinguished for power without harshness, and

Your Planos are superior to any I have ever seen Your rianos are superior to any I have ever seen in this country or in Europe.

I have never heard a tone so perfect; it yields every expression that is needed in music, and its quality is capable of change to meet every sentiment. This is a rare power, and is derived from the perfect purity of its tone, together with its sympathetic, elastic and well balanced touch.
